INTRODUCTION

The Bylaws are a living document that will change over time as new or different policies are adopted, new information is made available, and modifications of administrative procedures and processes are made, as well as the inevitable correction of unintended errors.

Whenever the manual is changed, a listing will be added to this summary Record of Changes. The date of the manual, as indicated on the cover, will remain the same pending a significant revision of the Bylaws. In the case of substantive changes, the date on individual changed pages may be revised to reflect such changes. Users of these Bylaws are asked to ensure the copy they are using incorporates the latest changes. The easiest way to determine this is to check the date of the most recent change, listed at the end of the following Change Summary.
